DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Gross.

Gross's Figs. 5A, 5B and 6 illustrate a method of obtaining an average of a plurality of values, wherein the values are packed, by using a SIMD instruction to obtain a packed rounded-up average which is then corrected by subtracting one if the sum of the first and second packed values is an odd number.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

3. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 1-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

The claims are directed to a method or process for performing an averaging operation on a plurality of values via a mathematical algorithm to obtain an average result. The claims are not limited to a practical application of the mathematical algorithm because the averaging result is not a useful, concrete and tangible result. More specifically the average result is not a tangible result because it is not a real world result. The reference to a filter in claims 7, 14 and 15 is merely intended use and does not limit the claims to a practical application.

In view of page 2, lines 10-11 and page 45, line 21 the claims may be directed to a program per se. While the program contains functional descriptive material there is nothing in the claims that would enable the functionality to be realized.

Specification

4. The lengthy specification has not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the specification.

5. On page 1 a Serial No. and filing date are lacking.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

7. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to David H. Malzahn whose telephone number is (571) 272-3727. The examiner can normally be reached on M-Th from 7:30 to 6:00.
